SURRENDER OF PORT ARTHUR "A DISGRACE"

Russians Had Enough Men, Food and Powder to Hold It Longer.

STOESSEL BLAMED.

Officers and Men Opposed Him in Laying Down Arms in War Council.

RIOT AFTER DECISION.

Troops Threw Their Guns Into Harbor and Gave Themselves Up to Looting and Drink.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE THIRD JAPANESE ARMY AT PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 14, via Tientsin, Jan. 16.—The victorious Japanese army having formally entered Port Arthur and a full inspection of the city having been made, it is evident that the surrender was not necessary, as there were 3,000 effective men in the fortress.

The supply of ammunition was short, but it was not exhausted. Food was scarce, but private stores were not requisitioned by the military.

There is no difficulty in getting good means in the city even now from the stores in private possession. A portion of the fortress was capable of defense for months longer. It was the opinion of the non-combatants at Port Arthur that the surrender was unnecessary, as the troops were willing and able to fight to the bitter end. Gen. Stoessel was much blamed for what was characterized as a disgraceful conclusion of a splendid defense, which ended with the death of Major-Gen. Kondratenko, who was loved by the soldiers and was the life of the fortress.

Proposals for the surrender of Port Arthur were first made Dec. 29 at a Council of War. Gen. Stoessel was in favor of surrender, but some of his general officers were bitterly opposed to it. The regimental officers and the troops were not consulted.

Fortress Given Away.

The scenes following the surrender were disgraceful. Drunken soldiers filled the streets and refused to obey their officers. Many of them destroyed the guns upon the positions they had defended and came into the city without permission. The infantry loudly protested that the fortress had been given away, threw their rifles and ammunition into the harbor and proceeded to break into warehouses and loot and drink vodka until in a helpless condition.

When Gen. Nogai made the formal entry yesterday he and his staff went through the old town and took their stand in the public square of the new town. The army was represented by one regiment from each brigade. The procession, which was five miles long, was three hours passing the saluting base, after which the troops passed out of the city through the new town.

The correspondents then visited the captured city for the first time.

The old town buildings were badly smashed by shells, but in the new town the damage was slight. All the shipping in the harbor was badly damaged by shell fire, the warships being practically useless owing to the injuries they had sustained by shells.

Jap Memorial Service.

Memorial services were held today in honor of the spirits of the Japanese dead upon the plain north of the village of Shushui, a short distance from Port Arthur. Regiments representing the entire Japanese army were present. A shrine was erected on the crest of a small hill and the troops formed a circle around it.

Gen. Nogai and his staff were present. Lunch was served afterward in the open to all the officers present. It was a splendid spectacle.

Official Close to Commissioner McDoo at Headquarters Makes Startling Allegation Concerning Men Who Rule the Force.

M'ADOO ROUSED TO ACTION BY GREAT SPREAD OF CRIME.

Four Captains Doing Nothing, Overlooked, and a Sergeant Put in Charge of a Station—Commissioner Worried by Crime in the Department—Gamblers Seek Cover.

There are only three thoroughly honest captains on the police force, and none of these is available at present for duty in the Mercer street station. That is why Serg. Edward Bourke was made an acting captain this afternoon and sent to that precinct.

This statement was made today at Police Headquarters in the presence of several persons by an official of the department who is supposed to be close to Commissioner McDoo. He was asked to give the names of the three captains considered beyond the reach of corrupting influences, but refused to do so.

This official made public the reason why Capt. O'Connor was transferred back to Delancey street from Mercer street to make a place for Acting Capt. Bourke.

WHERE O'CONNOR FEEL SHORT.

It appears that when O'Connor was sent to Mercer street he was given a list of suspected places, with instructions of a specific nature as to his course with regard to them. A week passed and he did nothing. Then the Commissioner's private staff made raids, closing three places, one of which was allowed to reopen within twenty-four hours.

Capt. O'Connor and Deputy Commissioner Lindsay were visitors at the office of the District Attorney today. The Captain said that he had been called to give some information about conditions in the Mercer Street precinct. Lindsay refused to explain the nature of his business.

M'ADOO REFUSES TO "TAKE NOTICE."

Attention on the part of the district attorney, and individuals coupled with District Attorney Jerome's crusade on gamblers, has served to awaken the police authorities to action. Commissioner McDoo, for the first time since he assumed control of police affairs, has taken cognizance of an official way of the charges that he men are not doing their duty. A portion of transfers announced this afternoon shows he believes, as he maintained in a long statement to the public a few days ago, that reports made to him by his subordinates are not accurate.

With four captains at Police Headquarters on duty on the Mercer street station, the Commissioner was compelled to-day to elevate a sergeant to the position of acting captain and send him to the Mercer street station. The sergeant upon whom the Commissioner depends to carry out reforms in that precinct is Edward J. Burke, his confidential man, who acted in the same capacity for President Roosevelt when he was in Mulberry street, and for Commissioner Greene.

The four captains who were overlooked in this shift are Langan, Albersson, Reardon and Tighe, all of whom are detailed at headquarters with nothing to do. Capt. O'Connor transferred a few days ago from Delancey street to Mercer street, is sent back to Delancey street.

Commissioner McDoo has told all his commanders that he expects them to capture the hold-up man who was captured at the home of brewer Weyer, a revolutionary and reportedly the whole family. He has nearly 100 men detailed to this case alone.

The Commissioner has been talking about the fact that two policemen were under indictment for murder in the first degree and will soon be tried by a jury. He has also mentioned the fact that a policeman, while under the influence of liquor, accidentally shot a brother officer while at revolver practice in the Fifth Regiment Armory to-day and that three policemen, one of them with his wife engaged in a street fight on the east side early one morning last week.

To further spur the Commissioner to action here is in process of formation a Vigilance Committee to be known as "The Council of Civic Organization of the City of New York." This is to be composed of representatives of many powerful organizations and clubs.

Within a week it is expected that the full plans will be made public. A committee from the West End Association waited upon the Commissioner today and demanded additional police protection for the upper west side.

MORE GAMBLERS PROMISE JEROME THEY'LL QUIT.

District Attorney Jerome's collection of faro and roulette layouts, poker tables, cards, chips and other gambling paraphernalia was enriched to-day by contributions from Frank Farrell, Dave Johnson and Frank MacDougal. Farrell turned over the outfit from two gambling-houses and Johnson and MacDougal from one each.

Farrell did not appear at the District Attorney's office. He is said to be out of the city. The surrender of the paraphernalia of his places at No. 33 West Thirty-third street and No. 51 West Thirty-third street was made through his counsel, Dan O'Reilly.

The house at No. 32 was raided on the same night that the District Attorney forced an entrance into Richard Canfield's, and the gambling outfit was seized. It has been stored in the property clerk's office at Police Headquarters ever since. Mr. Jerome ordered it removed to the Criminal Courts Building to-day. The removal of No. 51 will be turned over to the District Attorney on Wednesday.

To Fight to the End. Refreshed by a stay of three days at Lakeville, Conn., Mr. Jerome returned to town last night to renew his fight to close gambling houses by compelling the proprietors to surrender their paraphernalia and assisting them in getting out of town.
